(Discussion in progress) John Hanlin from KFOR has supplied me with copies of the editorials that KFOR puts out. I think it would be well if most of us do not get to hear them every day that when they are supplied to us that we have the pages distribute copies of them so that we can keep tabs on what the editorials say, because much of it concerns what we are doing in the legislature and if there is no objection, I would ask permission to have the debate or a...a...the pages distribute these when KFOR brings them over.

PRESIDENT: Any further discussion of the matter? Senator Duis, do you wish to comment.

SENATOR DUIS: Just a question of Senator Luedtke there wouldn't be a chance that they would try to express an opinion to influence us a little would you?

SENATOR LUEDTKE: Certainly they would, because they are editorials. Any editorials would try to express an opinion.

SENATOR DUIS: I was just wondering, because no when this happens you have to initial each one of these, so what you are saying is that we are lock, stock, and barrel, whatever they send up here in the way of an editorial we automatically get it. Is that it?

SENATOR LUEDTKE: Senator Duis, if you don't want it object to it. I'm just suggesting that we ought to know what they are saying about what we are doing, and if you don't want it just say so.

SENATOR DUIS: Well...

SENATOR LUEDTKE: Its alright with me I don't have anything about it except I'm just suggesting this. I don't want to have to initial these things every time they come in. I'm asking for authority to do it, and if you don't want to do it say so.

SENATOR DUIS: I didn't mean to get under your hide all about it, I just merely had a question as to whether or not this was for all of them or if it was for SENATOR LUEDTKE: It is for all of them.

PRESIDENT: Senator Duis, does the chair understand that you object.

SENATOR DUIS: Not in the least, I merely asked a question, but it seemed to irritate him.

PRESIDENT: Are there objections? If there are none, it is so ordered then Senator Luedtke. We do not have too much on final reading this morning, but we do have one
