

April 27, 1993 LR 74

seven something, but some of you youngsters might, and oldsters, can relate to that because that phraseology is from Abraham Lincoln, Senator Jones, the four score and seven. He may have reached that number by now.

SPEAKER BAACK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So while those kinds of things are going on, our young people are sent to die. Then we cannot get a job. We cannot get a job to earn enough money to take care of our families, yet we're asked to die some place else. I hope that you will consider this amendment, see the validity of it and add it to Senator Beutler's amendment so that America does not once again become the bottomless pit when it comes to going into debt.

SPEAKER BAACK: Thank you, Senator Chambers. Discussion on the Chambers amendment. Senator Hartnett, did you wish to discuss... Senator Abboud, on the Chambers amendment?

SENATOR ABOUD: Mr. Speaker and members, would Senator Beutler yield to a question? Senator Beutler, in reading your amendment you talk about the, it says with the support and participation of the United Nations and other major European allies. Does this mean that only with the support and participation of the United States and other major allies? Is it...

SENATOR BEUTLER: That's my intent, Senator, yes.

SENATOR ABOUD: Okay. So we should not enter into this dispute without the support of the United Nations and other major European allies?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Rig: .

SENATOR ABOUD: Okay. All right. Senator Withem, would he yield to a question?

SPEAKER BAACK: Senator Withem.

SENATOR WITHEM: Yes.

SENATOR ABOUD: Senator Withem, are you in support of this particular section where it puts a restraint on use of military force of the United States?
