CLERK: (Roll call vote taken. See page 1808 of the Legislative Journal.) 8 ayes, 29 nays, Madam President.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Motion to bracket fails. I raise the call. Anything further on the bill, Mr. Clerk?

CLERK: Madam President, Senator Haberman. Want to go to the other priorities, Senator. Okay, Senator Haberman would move to refer...recommit the bill to the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Haberman.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Madam President, when this bill was put out of the committee, some of the committee members, as I understand it, did not understand what they were voting on. At that time, the problem in South Africa was not so violent as it is now. The rules say that we can take a bill, send it back to the committee, have the committee study it and look at it, and again make a decision. Now, I don't think that all the members of the committee understood exactly what they were doing. I have some of them that told me, if we had known what we were voting on, I wouldn't have voted for it. Folks, it wouldn't have got out of committee. So, what...what I'm trying to do is... I was told don't make people mad. Don't rock the boat. Don't make people mad, I'm going to pull the amendment. Now...and Senator Hall admitted to this body that he told me that. I trust Senator Hall, I trusted Senator Hall, I like Senator Hall, but when he changes his...what he said to me right out in the hallway I don't know what to think. He said, if there's a lot of debate, I'll pull the amendment. Well, there was debate, but he didn't say to me he'd pull the amendment if there's a lot of debate. He said, we'll let Senator Chambers rant and rave for a while, then I'll pull the amendment. Don't shake your head, no. That's what you told me, Tim Hall. That's what you told me. And, he said, also, don't make people mad, so I said nothing. I said nothing. I did not get up and talk about the MacBride Principles. So, folks, I guess I'm...I'm kind of frustrated, but if we want to play games, if we want to let Senator Chambers tie this body up into knots, intimidate people, scream and
