me in the hall? Yes.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Hall.

SENATOR HALL: Madam President and members, you damn right we talked in the hall.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Well, now just a minute, you answer my question.

SENATOR HALL: Oh, no, no, no.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Now wait a minute, did you tell me...

SENATOR HALL: Come on, "Rexie,"...

SENATOR HABERMAN: Did you tell me...

SENATOR HALL: ...lay it out right.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Did you tell me that...

SENATOR HALL: Lay it out the way it happened, Rex.

SENATOR HABERMAN: All right.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Hall.

SENATOR HALL: (Not at the microphone.)

SENATOR HABERMAN: You're on my time, Senator Hall. You're on my time.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Hall. Senator Haberman, please continue. Senator Haberman, it's your time.

SENATOR HABERMAN: I would like to thank Senator Withem and his trying for honesty and sincerity and openness because I would have asked the question of germaneness. I have it all written out here. It's dated March the 22nd. But I was told by Senator Hall, don't rock the boat, don't make people mad. That's what I was told. And I don't have to use swear words to describe what I was told. I was told the question to be divided in eight parts was up there, we're going to have some discussion that won't take too...maybe a half an hour, we let Ernie shoot his
